

allegory

in your eyes
the dawn awakens
in darkness –
within the walls of a cave a labyrinth of dreams
illuminates the shadows
of sleep

I see a beast abandoned by fate in the depths of obscurity, shackled and bound in a dungeon of appearances

a fallen sun rises
over a sea of silence –
the sound of waves
crashing along the shore
where mountains crumble into the sands of time

I see a man crawling toward reason through a tunnel of perception, a secret passage into a world of patterns

reflections dance upon a mirror of images –
clouds of memory
scatter impressions across a limitless horizon
of possibility

I see a mind exploring the nature of the mystery of being, an endless journey around the cycles of experience

a risen sun falls
under the spell of illusion –
an island paradise
drifts beyond sight
into the howling whisper of the winds of change

I see a soul struggling to realize the promise of destiny, an eternal life to wander on wings of imagination

a tempest of creation
reveals a rainbow of colors – echoes of dusk
unravel a vision
under the hollow gaze
of awareness

I see in your eyes Myself
